

Julia Smith Wilhelm earned her MM degree in flute performance with a music history emphasis from Butler University. She also holds her undergraduate degree in flute performance from Lenoir-Rhyne University in Hickory, NC, her hometown and began her graduate studies at Appalachian State University. She has studied with Dr. Lynn White, Lenoir-Rhyne University and Appalachian State University; Rebecca Price Arrensen, co-principal flute and piccolo, Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra; and Valerie Simosko, former principal flute, Charlotte Symphony Orchestra. Julia is a former adjunct professor of flute at Gardner-Webb University, Boiling Springs, NC where she taught applied flute students and directed the flute ensemble. Since moving back to the Indianapolis area in 2004, Julia has taught private flute and piano lessons, as well as serving on sectional and private lesson staff in several school districts in the Indianapolis area. Many of her students have earned gold ratings at ISSMA State Solo and Ensemble, as well as being selected for IN All-Region Bands and IN Junior All-State Bands. Her piano students have earned ISSMA State gold, as well as regularly participating in National Piano Guild Auditions. Julia is an active and founding member of the Greater Indianapolis Flute Club and a member of the National Guild of Piano Teachers.
